

New Dry Chief Plans a Model, Rumless Town

Says He Will Remain Here Until City Is Freed of Bootleg Liquor and Begins Planning the Drive

Secrecy Is Maintained

McQuade Threatens to Have Enright Arrested if He Halts Oppression Order

E. C. Yellowley, head of the squad of prohibition agents sent here from Washington to assist in clamping down the lid in New York, yesterday began the planning of his campaign for the improvement of the local prohibition situation.

He said that he intends to remain in New York until it is bone dry and that he is confident of making it a "model dry city."

There is said to be more significance in the assignment here of Yellowley and his squad than appears on the surface. It is known that Governor Miller and Police Commissioner Enright have been keeping close watch on the rulings of a magistrate and have looked closely into the official actions of a high police official. The appearance of Yellowley, who has been working here with his squad since Monday, followed a declaration by Magistrate F. X. McQuade from the bench that he knew Commissioner Enright had been keeping tabs on his (McQuade's) decisions.

Auto Dealer Arrested
It also might appear more than coincidental that United States Secret Service agents yesterday arrested Rodney K. Haines, an automobile dealer at 228 West Fifty-second Street, who was directed by Magistrate McQuade to bring complaints against four policemen, two of them lieutenants, who had seized $3,000 worth of alleged intoxicants in Haines's place without proper warrant.

The policemen, against whom Haines in the principal witness, are charged with having in his possession illegal liquor labels. It was announced by the Secret Service yesterday that Haines would probably not be arraigned on the Federal charge until after the hearing of the case against the four policemen. The arrest of Haines might indicate that Federal charges of violating the Volstead law will be brought against others who, like Haines, were discharged by magistrates' costs over the complaints and evidence of the police. This procedure of rearrest in such cases was adopted by the late La Roy Ross, United States Attorney in Brooklyn, it was said, on receipt of a letter from United States Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty. In an address in Cincinnati yesterday Attorney General Daugherty said:

"My duty is clear. As long as I am the responsible head of the Department of Justice the law will be enforced with all the power possessed by the government which I am at liberty to call to my command."

Refuses to Outline Policy
Director H. L. Hart yesterday refused to say how many men Yellowley had brought from Washington. He also refused to outline the policy of the government in regard to enforcement in New York. He said that new rulings against wholesalers and druggists had begun to be successful in shutting off a large supply of bootleg whisky and that enforcement conditions here would continue to improve.

The activity of the national government agents appeared not to have swerved Magistrate McQuade in his determination to punish police officers for violating the Amendment to the Constitution of the United States which guards the home against illegal search and seizure. The magistrate openly threatened the arrest of Police Commissioner Enright if that official in any way obstructed the carrying out of the orders of his court.

Acting Police Inspector Thomas Donahue, of the 3d Inspection District, and Policeman Francis Murphy, in plain clothes, were arraigned before Magistrate McQuade in the West Side court on a summons charging an alleged oppression, consisting of placing a policeman on constant guard in the café of Michael J. Brown, 794 Columbus Avenue. Magistrate McQuade instructed Donahue to remove the police watch in Brown's place, and the inspector replied that he would have to consult with Commissioner Enright first.

Would Arrest Enright
"If that officer is not out of that café by 9 o'clock to-morrow morning," said the court, "I am going to issue a warrant for your arrest and for the arrest of Commissioner Enright, and I want you to tell that to the Commissioner. On what grounds have you stationed an officer in that place? Has any arrest been made?"

"No," answered Donahue.
Patrolman Harry Hepler, of the 3d Inspection District, was arrested in West Side Court for the second time on a new charge of oppression yesterday. The complaint was made this time by Attorney Samuel Becker, a former Assistant District Attorney, who counsel for Harry Sartoris, a jeweler, living at the Pasadena Hotel, 10 West Sixty-first Street.

Sartoris testified that Hepler entered his home, saying he had a search warrant, but did not show it. He seized a bottle of gin. Hepler admitted in court that he had no search warrant. Hepler is one of four policemen or lieutenants, who are facing oppression charges in the Haines case.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Denies He Said He Wouldn't Run Again

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon said to-day he had not authorized any one to announce he would not be a candidate next year for reelection as a member of the House of Representatives from the 18th Illinois district.

Commenting on a report that Representative Rodenberg, of Illinois, had said the former Speaker had told friends he would not be a candidate again, Mr. Cannon said: "Any announcement as to my plans will come from me."

"It's a long time yet until the primary—plenty of time for me or my would-be successor to make a long campaign," said "Uncle Joe." "Any announcement as to my plans will come from me."

This Is 20th Century, Wife Replies in Suit

Husband Who Already Won Separation Is Set by Default Must Pay Again

A letter from Mrs. Sophie H. Spicer to her husband, setting her rights as a "twentieth century wife" is an exhibit in a separation suit brought by the husband, who complained that Mrs. Spicer, as a model student, passed too much time away from home and children in previous proceedings. Mr. Spicer was awarded a separation decree because his wife failed to defend the suit. Mrs. Spicer succeeded in having the case rescinded and Justice O'Malley yesterday appointed a referee to take testimony as to the financial ability of Mr. Spicer, who has an interest in an East Side apartment store, to pay his wife the $150 a week alimony and $1,500 counsel fee demanded by her.

Mrs. Spicer's letter reads in part: "You cannot ignore me any longer to live with you. I could not again stand being enslaved to a man who told me with whom I was to talk and whom I may look. Don't forget that you live in the twentieth century, and that no longer a wife considered the chattel of her husband."

Salvo of Sneezes Salutes Return of Hay Fever Season

Annual Epidemic Begins as Waning Summer Scatters Pollen; Treatment With Plant Dust Benefits Some

New York is struggling with an epidemic which recurs each year and hinders health and life in full swing. The hay fever season is in full swing. Thousands of persons are suffering from the annoying and weakening effects of the disease.

Though not a serious ailment, attacks, not only of the nose and eyes, but also of the throat and lungs, are recognized as the cause, do those who know and understand the disease premise relief.

"Pollen from various sources of plant life has been in the air for years, regarded as responsible for the summer form of hay fever," said Frank J. Nonaghan, acting health commissioner, yesterday. "The pollen and fine ragweed are the principal factors in the present epidemic. Rank growths of ragweed are found in vacant lots and parks throughout the city. A little wind and sprays of the little particles are wafted through the air and into contact with susceptible human beings."

In the fight against hay fever some of the foremost medical authorities in the city are engaged. There is a special clinic for this ailment alone at the New York Hospital, headed by a physician who is responsible for a method of treatment that has proved successful.

Dr. Robert A. Coe, of 375 Park Avenue, has developed the method of introducing pollen into the affected nostrils. The number of persons treated under his direction at the New York Hospital clinic is said to be more than 250 each day, and the hospital is considering the enlargement of its forces to take care of the increasing applications.

New Witness Volunteers His Aid in Duke Case

Tells of A Lack by Unidentified Man at the Scene of the Fatal Auto Crash

William J. Kennedy, of 3044 Kingsbridge Road, the Bronx, appeared voluntarily in West Farms Court yesterday to testify in the case of Angier B. Duke, son of Benjamin N. Duke, tobacco king.

Duke is under $2,000 bail, as also are Henry Haubert, picture producer, of 395 Madison Avenue, and the latter's chauffeur, Joseph C. Palmer, charged with suspicion of homicide. In a collision between the Duke and Haubert cars on August 21, Owen Kelvin, a pedestrian, was killed.

Kennedy drove up in an automobile and was attacked as he descended from it by an unidentified man. He said he made many attempts to find out when the Duke hearing would take place, but that efforts had been made by certain persons to keep him away from the court. He said he did not know the man who attempted to assault him, but knew he was "one of the gang."

Kennedy told Magistrate Peter A. Hart that his wife would be an important witness in the case. He said Mrs. Kennedy witnessed the killing of Kelvin. He also asked that the case be brought into court. The magistrate adjourned the hearing until to-morrow, instructing Assistant District Attorney Willoughby C. Doherty to take Kennedy's deposition. Doherty replied that he had all the witnesses subpoenaed.

Later attorneys for Duke said their client had been bothered since the accident by persons who had called him repeatedly on the telephone, claiming to have been witnesses and offering assistance. The attorneys said Mr. Duke had refused to receive any of these volunteer witnesses.

Revolt Plot in India Is Charged to Sikhs

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A dispatch to "The Daily Mail" of Calcutta says the police in the Punjab have discovered a conspiracy among the Sikhs to overthrow the British government and assassinate Europeans. The dispatch adds that the prosecution of the alleged conspirators will be undertaken.

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 31.—To avoid the possibility of violation of the mosque at Mirpurkari, where the rebels are entrenched, the authorities have decided to erect barricades around the building and surround the rebels. Both Calicut and Malabar are quiet.

MADRAS, Aug. 31 (By The Associated Press).—Fighting between Hindu caste Hindus and Mahomedans on one side and Dravidians, or Indian aborigines, on the other, was resumed here yesterday morning, after having been quelled on Monday night.

A dispatch from Calicut says that a column of British troops was ambushed at Pakkatur by Mohlahs, a hot fire being poured into the British ranks from all sides.

Rolger Gets Penniless Leg of Trousers as Loot

Samuel Hershkowitz, occupant of a street-level apartment at 573 Fifteenth Avenue, Newark, fought a burglar five minutes early yesterday morning for possession of his trousers, which contained $50. The burglar reached through an open window and dragged the trousers from under Hershkowitz's pillow.

Then Hershkowitz awoke the trousers were vanishing through the open window. He seized one leg that was still within reach and hung on. The burglar hauled on the other leg. Just as Mrs. Hershkowitz entered the room in response to her husband's shouts for all the trousers parted amiss.

The burglar ran away with one leg. Hershkowitz hurriedly explored the pocket in his pajamas and found his money intact.

Officials Face Jail for Aiding London's Idle

Members of Borough Council Defy Court Order on Ground Money Involved Is Required for the Poor

Their Action Is Approved

Difficulties Arise in Districts Where as Many as 30,000 Are Unemployed

LONDON, Aug. 31 (By The Associated Press).—Thirty labor members of the Poplar Borough Council of the City of London face arrest and imprisonment to-morrow through conditions growing out of the increase in unemployment, more especially in Poplar, which is in one of the city's poorest districts.

The labor members of the Council, headed by George Lansbury, editor of "The Daily Herald," have refused to pay the call of the London County Council and various departments dealing with education, drainage of roads and other services for the whole of London. Their defense is that the borough is heavily burdened with the maintenance of the poor and unemployed, and they decline to saddle it with any further burdens until the reform of the laws which compel each borough to provide for its own poor, while the rich districts escape this burden.

Ready for Arrest

Writes against these recalcitrant councilors expire at midnight to-night, after which, it is announced, they will be arrested and imprisoned. They held a meeting to-night at which Mayor Match announced that, owing to the action of the council in throwing the burden of the unemployed on local bodies, the council had been driven to a position where it was impossible to impose further taxes on the ratepayers and that the council must commit an unconstitutional act as the only means to bring about a remedy. The members of the council would cheerfully go to prison in such a case.

Many thousands of ratepayers assembled in the streets while the meeting was in progress and held a demonstration of sympathy. Lively scenes occurred both inside and outside the council chamber.

In other London districts to-day there were large demonstrations of unemployed, where the Board of Guardians had refused to follow the example of Poplar.

All the London municipalities are facing new and difficult social problems through the demands being made by the unemployed in various working class districts, such as Woolwich and Poplar, where there are labor majorities on the local boards.

The present demands insist that instead of the small amounts ordinarily paid by the boards of guardians for what is known as "door poor relief"—eight to twenty shillings for a man and four to six shillings for each child, where the man is unemployed—an amount virtually equivalent to what the man would receive for his full work shall be paid for himself, wife and children.

As in some of these districts there are from 20,000 to 30,000 unemployed and at the end of July, in addition to more than 54,000 inmates of workhouses and infirmaries, there were more than 132,000 persons receiving outdoor relief, it would be impossible for the municipalities to pay such demands without an enormous addition to the burden of rates.

Some of the boards, however, possessing labor majorities, have been acceding to the demands in part and paying on a generous scale. Thus, Islington and Camberwell, paying outdoor relief, have been giving a man with his children as much as 13 shillings weekly.

Drops $3,000 in Card Game Among Swindlers

Brooklyn Man Tells Police of Being Fleeced in Attempt to Defraud Another

Samuel Eisenberg, of 1671 Lincoln Place, Brooklyn, reported to the police of the Coney Island station last night that he thought he had been swindled. He'd be obliged to them, he said, if they would arrest the four men he suspected of fraud and get back his $3,000.

He met the four Tuesday night, he said, and one of them was so cordial he was sure they had met before. This one told him they were getting ready to frame a card game on a stranger and invited him to sit in. Marked cards were to be used, and the stranger was to be fleeced.

Eisenberg said he sat in with $1,500 and lost it all. It was explained to him that the cards had been marked all right, but through some error he was advised to get some more money and the deal would be put through as planned. He got $1,500 more and it went the way of the first. The card game broke up and Eisenberg was told to wait until his friends returned, when they would decide how to get his money back. After waiting several hours he decided the quartet was not going to return and that he had been fleeced.

Three Listed as Deserters Found to Have Served in War

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Frank Lynch, 311 East Thirty-eighth Street; Charles E. Coan, 227 East Thirty-first Street; and William Carey, 312 East Thirty-fifth Street, all of New York City, were found to-day by the War Department to have served in the army during the World War, and will have their names removed from the draft deserter lists, Secretary of War Weeks announced.

The military records of the three registrants show that they served under different names than used at the time they registered for the draft. Lynch served under the name of Frank Dowd; Coan's military records show him listed as Ernest Coan, and a record of service has been found in the case of William T. Carey, which convinces the War Department he is identical with the William Carey named in the published list of deserters from the draft.

Ask Return of Troops Textile Strike Trouble Renewed at Concord, N. C.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 31.—Conditions in and near Concord, an important textile center, are again beyond control of city and county authorities. Governor Morrison was advised late to-day by Sheriff Carl Spears and Mayor J. B. Womble, of Concord.

The Governor was requested to order the return of state troops to the posts from which they were withdrawn a few days ago.

A strike among textile workers early in June caused the shut-down of more than a dozen factories and led to disorders which resulted finally in Governor Morrison sending several companies of state troops to take charge of the situation.

Clemenceau May Re-enter Political Ring This Fall

Will Deliver Political Speech About Sept. 15; Some Believe It Will Be His Valedictory

BORDEAUX, France, Aug. 31.—Georges Clemenceau, France's famous wartime Premier, will deliver a political speech at his country seat, in the Department of Vendee, some time after September 15, according to the newspaper, "Liberte du Sud Ouest."

The newspaper, which is reported to be closely connected with Georges Mandel, Deputy for Bordeaux, who formerly was Clemenceau's chief secretary in the Ministry of War, adds that it is probable the address will mark the re-emergence of "the Tiger" into active politics.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—M. Clemenceau is visiting Corsica for a few days. Former political friends profess to be unaware of M. Clemenceau's reported intention to re-enter active politics, but say it is more likely to be a valedictory than a re-entry into the political arena. It is pointed out that M. Clemenceau has chosen his native department for the purpose of his farewell.

Yap Agreement Near, Declares Press of Tokio

Basis of Settlement Said to Provide for American Recognition of Japanese Mandate Over the Island

Guam Cable to the U. S.

Washington Says Diplomatic Discussions Indicate Adjustment Soon

TOKIO, Aug. 31 (By The Associated Press).—The Japanese Foreign Office has received advice, according to Tokio newspapers to-day, indicating that the points at issue between Japan and the United States over control of the island of Yap would soon be settled upon the following basis:

First—The United States would recognize the Japanese mandate over the island.

Second—The United States would control the cable between the islands of Yap and Guam.

Third—The cable connecting Japan, Yap and Menado, Holland, would be settled on a basis of recognition of Holland's rights therein.

The Cabinet yesterday decided on an outline of Japan's policy at Washington, the "Nichi Nichi" says, whereby Japan will insist "to the last" upon the exclusion from the agenda of the following accomplished facts:

First—The Kwang-Tung leased territory.

Second—The operation of the South Manchurian Railway.

Third—Kiao-Chau, which will be returned to China, according to previous declarations.

Fourth—The question of Yap.

This outline will be submitted to the diplomatic advisory council.

The "Chugai Shogyo" thinks it is almost certain that China will endeavor to reopen the twenty-one demands question and that the Hara government will find it impossible to oppose such a move because it is on record as against the Japanese policy behind the twenty-one demands. It also believes that Japan will have difficulty in inducing the powers participating in the Washington conference to refrain from discussing matters solely affecting particular powers, and accomplished facts in general.

The newspapers report that Viscount Shibusawa, president of the American-Japanese Association and a prominent Tokio banker, is planning, with other Japanese business men, to visit the United States shortly with the object of improving business relations between the two countries.

Previously it had been indicated that the cables would very possibly be distributed among interested powers, such as the United States, Japan and Holland. The question of recognizing the Japanese mandate over the island, however, it is understood, is still open.
